Norheimer Kirschheck Riesling Spätlese, Dönnhoff 2025

Sourced from 50-year-old vines in the village of Norheim, Kirschheck is a steep south-facing grey-clay slate vineyard producing nervy and energetic rieslings. This is a stunning wine in 2025 with a generosity and weight that is balanced to perfection with a racy acidity to counterbalance the sweetness. Ginger, apricot, hints of fresh mango and fleshy peach and a finish keeps on going! Drink from 2028 to 2040. 8.5% [5- Medium Sweet]

Oberhäuser Leistenberg Riesling Kabinett, Dönnhoff 2025

From the estate's oldest vineyard site, the Leistenberg's grey slate and steep south-eastern slopes produce outstanding rieslings that are delicious immediately but certainly have ageing potential. This wine is full of ginger, wet stone, peach and white florals. Mineral-driven and precise Kabinett with racy acidity. Drink this year to 2033. 9% [4- Medium Dry]

Roxheimer Höllenpfad Dry Riesling, Dönnhoff 2025

The Höllenpfad vineyard, meaning 'path to hell', references the steep slopes and the red sandstone soils. It is hard work to manage this steep site in the Nahe, but the resulting wine is surely worth it., showing so much potential and innate quality with a flinty, saline and lime juice quality. There is so much going on in the glass with an underlying steeliness and precision that also gives a slightly austere character. If you like a very precise and tightly wound riesling, this one is for you. You will be rewarded by leaving this wine a few years. Drink from 2028 to 2040. 12.5% [1- Bone Dry]

The grapes for this wine come almost exclusively from the Oberhäuser Leistenberg vineyard, which is a cool valley site. This is a bone-dry riesling that offers incredible value for the money. The palate offers citrus peel, jasmine, fleshy peach and white pepper spice with a wonderful balance thanks to zesty acidity and vibrancy on the finish. Drink this year to 2034. 12% [1- Bone Dry]
