AUTUMN

Comforting wines for crackling fires, sofa evenings
and seasonal feasts

DRINKING

MY FAVOURITE time of year

As soon as the jumpers come out, and the first fireworks start to pop, and there's an excuse to cook something hearty (preferably involving pumpkin!), I find myself reaching for wines with a little more depth, spice and texture.

That's exactly what this collection is all about. We've explored the generous reds of the Rhône, celebrated the irresistible appeal of zinfandel and primitivo, and selected rich, characterful wines perfect for the season. Alongside members' favourites, supplier-supported savings and a selection of recently crowned 2026 Wine Champions, you'll also find a selection of Exhibition wines that I think are at their best at this time of year.

Whether you're cooking for friends or settling in for a quiet evening by the fire, I hope this offer inspires a few delicious discoveries.

Ideal Autumn Reds

ZINFANDEL & PRIMITIVO

One grape, two names, two countries and plenty of flavour: primitivo is widely grown in the warmth of southern Italy, while California has made zinfandel one of its best-loved exports. Both produce ripe, dark-fruited, full-throttle wines capable of conquering the autumn chill in style. Here are some favourites.

US14961
The Society's California Old-Vine Zinfandel 2024
This classic, full-bodied and satisfying California zinfandel is made from some of Delicato's oldest Lodi vines, which explains its concentration and class. Expect black cherry, intense mixed spice and juicy berry fruit. 14.5% [D] [S]
£10.95 bottle £14.60/1 | £131 dozen £14.56/1

IT46291
The Society's Primitivo 2024
Bright, unoaked, medium-bodied Italian primitivo with notes of ripe blackberry and plum, fresh Mediterranean herbs and a touch of dark chocolate. This has refreshing acidity and is drier than many primitivos, making it brilliantly versatile. 13.5% [D]

Roast lamb

Muga Reserva, Rioja 2022

A powerful yet classy reserva from the Muga family, with pristine, ripe fruit and softly rounded tannins. The 2022 is balanced and complex, capturing all the hallmarks of a fine Rioja, with plenty of sweet spice and succulent dark-berry fruit. Based in the old railway quarter of Haro, Muga is a fine old bodega, with its own cooperage. Indeed, we believe Muga is making some of the very best Rioja available today. Roast lamb or lamb chops sizzling from the grill and scattered with rosemary are classically simple delights with fine Rioja like this, but it's a cracker, too, with warming, aromatic tagines and other moderately spiced dishes, be they meaty or veggie. Drink now to 2033. 14.5%

The RHÔNE

With dark and bosky reds, gorgeously textured whites and not forgetting food-friendly rosé, the wines of the Rhône really come into their own at this time of year.

REDS

RH79551
Costières de Nîmes La Ciboise, Chapoutier 2025
From a stony plateau to the south of the Roman city of Nîmes comes this exuberantly fruity grenache-syrah blend, offering lots of energy and crunchy fruit combined with spice and liquorice. 2025 was a juicy and accessible vintage. 13.5%
£9.95 bottle £13.27/ℓ | £119 dozen £13.22/ℓ

RH79751
The Society's French Syrah 2025
Lovely, supple syrah, brimming with bramble fruits and spice. Most of it comes from vineyards in Brézème, on limestone soils, a dozen miles or so from Crozes. A perfect little red for grills and simple meals. 13.5%
£9.95 bottle £13.27/ℓ | £119 dozen £13.22/ℓ

RH76221
Côtes-du-Rhône Sablières, Domaine des Escaravilles 2022
This grenache-dominated blend from a family-owned estate in the village of Rasteau is full-bodied but well balanced and with plenty of bramble, tapenade and wild herb flavours. 13.5%
£11.95 bottle £15.93/ℓ | £143 dozen £15.89/ℓ

RH79831
Costières de Nîmes Tradition Rouge, Mas des Bressades 2023
A lovely well-balanced, fruity grenache-syrah blend from near Nîmes, not far from the iconic Pont du Gard. Great value for money and a textbook example of a southern Rhône red. This is gorgeous. 14.5%

AN AUTUMN exhibition

Our flagship Exhibition wines aim to serve as reference points for some of the world's great fine wine styles, sourced from top producers and priced exceptionally well for their quality. Here we've picked the bottles we think would fit like a hand in a woollen glove for the autumn moments ahead!

The first cold snap

Every year we seem to forget: it really does get cold! Once the wardrobe's been selected and the heating's finally been turned on, it's time to hunker down with some appropriately warming, gutsy flavours. The rich, nutty and spicy charms of The Society's Exhibition White Rioja Reserva 2018 will do just the job, as will the more aromatic and spicy Exhibition Alsace Gewurztraminer 2021 – both Wine Champions in this year's blind tastings. For a full-throttle but mellow red, head either to Argentina, where Catena make our indulgent but beautifully balanced Exhibition Mendoza Malbec 2023 or keep it traditional with a classic claret, such as the Exhibition Margaux 2020.

So many of the best-loved TV shows unleash their latest seasons at this time of year. If you're curling up in the warmth to indulge in, or catch up on, a favourite then why not open something delicious? You don't need to spend a fortune to toast the occasion with fine bubbles, either: the Exhibition Cap Classique 2024 is one of the best-value sparklers in the world, made by a specialist of this South African style in the same traditional method as Champagne. For a crisp but satisfying white, our Exhibition Soave Classico 2025 – made by the world-renowned Pieropan family – is a truly fine wine at a very keen price, while the Exhibition Sancerre 2025 will delight lovers of top sauvignon blanc. For a joyful but seriously satisfying bottle of red, the cherry-laden charm of The Society's Exhibition Central Otago Pinot Noir 2024 has a wonderful knack for hitting the spot but refreshing the palate.

After a crisp walk

Back in the warm after a virtuous, leaf-crunching stroll, you can relive the aromas without the chill! The Society's Exhibition Margaret River Chardonnay 2025 combines woody, toasty generosity with wonderful precision and freshness. In red, there's something evocatively autumnal about the spicy complexity of good cru Beaujolais, epitomised by our Exhibition Côte de Brouilly 2025, and in the Exhibition Syrah, Polkadraai Hills 2025's luminous, peppery expression of this much-loved grape. The smoky, dried fruit and floral complexity of The Society's Exhibition Langhe Nebbiolo 2023 would also work beautifully – from Barbaresco-certified young vines, this is a true fine wine bargain.

AUTUMN CHAMPIONS THE HOME TEAM

For gorgeous go-to bottles, we've always recommended our own-label wines. Further proof of how good this range is came in this year's Wine Champions blind tastings, where so many of the wines stole the show. This autumn-friendly selection rounds up some of the stars. Buy with confidence: these are all lovely and are singing right now.

The Society's Exhibition Côtes du Jura 2020

'If you love dry sherry, you'll love this' was the verdict on our 'shining, super salty', bracing, bone-dry Exhibition Jura. Aged for three years under a veil of flor (yeast), it has considerable weight and nutty, spicy, yeasty character. 'It won't be for everyone, but it's a real explorers' wine,' said one taster, and a long discussion ensued about the best food matches for it (salted almonds, Comté cheese and coq au vin, in case you're wondering).
